

WOMAN DEFENDS HER DECEIVER

Unwed Mother Refuses to Reveal Name of Man High in College

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—An unwed mother, 22 years old, and a former co-ed at Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., is being held by the police here today on the charge of attempting to steal a pair of silk stockings and a waist from a local department store. She is known to the police as Eva Remy, which is not her real name. Efforts are being made today by the police to induce her to reveal the name of her alleged deceiver, whom she declares is a student at the Iowa school and prominent in athletic and fraternity circles. When the young woman was arrested she attempted to destroy a note, but the police picked it up. Through this note the police asked her with a child which had been found abandoned Sunday in the vestibule of an apartment building. This note was addressed to "Dear William."

According to the story told the police by the young woman she came to Chicago and found work after her alleged deceiver had refused to marry her. Her child, she said, was born in Milwaukee, but she returned to Chicago. Unable to work and lacking money to take her child she abandoned it, hoping it would fall into the hands of a woman living in the apartment house where she left it who had befriended her.

The woman confessed, according to police, that she attempted to steal the garments so that she might return to her parents in Iowa wearing good clothes. She then planned to re-enter college where she was a student of bacteriology, and where insect into her system poisonous germs that would cause her death without leaving an appearance of suicide.

AMES, Iowa, Jan. 17.—According to Iowa state college officials, the girl held by Chicago police on a shoplifting charge and in connection with the abandonment of a five-week-old baby, is a divorced woman who attended Iowa state college for two years after her divorce. She left school last spring for Chicago. The man mentioned as the father of the abandoned child, is no longer attending school here.

Simple Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of pure, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. Advertis-
